

1. Familiarize yourself with `gdb` – the GNU debugger.
2. Explore remote debugging of `xv6` under QEMU.
3. Write a 32-bit RISC-V kernel that prints “hello world” every 1 second.
4. Write a 32-bit RISC-V kernel that displays the character corresponding to the keys pressed on the keyboard.